

Today, China included Serbia in the list of countries where group travel is allowed, which is great news for our tourism. That was our focus during the Tourism Fair, where China was our partner, Minister of Tourism and Youth Husein Memić told Politika. Until a few months ago, China was closed to travel, and then a list of 20 countries to which travel is allowed was published. However, Serbia was not on that list, and as of today, it is officially included, which means that a large number of Chinese tourists can be expected in Serbia soon.

Memić says that Serbia is ready, first of all because we have a visa-free regime with China, as well as two direct airline routes - to Beijing and Tianjin.

- In addition, Chinese citizens also have a recommendation from the authorities to travel to our country, which is more than enough to be sure that domestic tourism is expecting a big boom in Chinese tourists. Now it is important to do everything in our power, so that these tourists are satisfied and recommend Serbia as a destination that should be visited, says Memić.
