

Mutual desire to intensify cooperation between Serbia and Azerbaijan has been confirmed

A meeting of the Intergovernmental Committee for Economy and Business Forum of Businessmen of Serbia and Azerbaijan is being held today in Baku, where the head of Serbian diplomacy Nikola Selakovic is on an official visit.

Yesterday in Baku, Selakovic had separate talks with the Minister of Foreign Affairs of that country, Ceyhun Bajramov, the Minister of Economy, Mikhail Jabarov, and the Minister of Defense Industry, Madat Guliyev.

In those talks, it was pointed out that the relations between the two countries are extremely good, and the mutual desire to intensify cooperation at the bilateral and multilateral level, especially economic cooperation, was confirmed.

It was also pointed out that the excellent friendly relations between the two presidents, Aleksandar Vucic and Ilham Aliyev, make a significant contribution to the strategic bilateral cooperation, RTV reports.
