

After the announcement that young people will receive more money from the state, President Aleksandar Vučić announced that the promised payment of money for the oldest citizens will begin soon.

- Let's do everything we promise. In three days, the payment of 20 thousand dinars for pensioners will start, which is about 34 billion, which shows that in times of crisis, for which we are not to blame for energy and inflation, we want to help people and encourage additional spending so that our economic growth can raise it to an even higher level, because that is the essence of everything - Vučić pointed out, Novosti reports.