

The basis for determining the amount of financial social assistance, adjusted for inflation in the previous six months, amounts to 9,580 dinars as of April 1, determined by the Minister of Employment, Veterans' Affairs and Social Affairs. Social assistance for an individual, ie a holder of rights in the family, amounts to 9,580 dinars. For each next adult in the family, the financial aid amounts to 4,790 dinars. Social assistance for a child under 18 amounts to 2,874 dinars.

According to the previous decision of the Government, from October 1, 2021, the basis for determining the amount of financial social assistance was 9,115 dinars, Nova Ekonomija reports.